Dacoit, son gunned down in Sukkur 'encounter'

By Our Correspondent

SUKKUR: The Sukkur police on Wednesday claimed to have gunned down a most-wanted dacoit, Sultan Shah, and his son, Hubdar Shah, in an 'encounter' in the Old Sukkur locality within the jurisdiction of the C-section of police station.

SSP Azhar Khan Mughal told media that Sultan Shah, who had been considered to be a 'symbol of terror' over the past 30 years. He said he was wanted by police in more than 48 cases of heinous crime.

The SSP said that just before the encounter, he along with his gang members committed a robbery in Rohri and resorted to firing, which left a boy, Faizan Sheikh, wounded. The gang then fled the ara by a car.

He said he and his team chased the car and tried to intercept it in the old Sukkur area, within the limits of the C-Section police station, but Sultan and Hubdar got off it at one point where a motorcycle was parked for them. The used it to move speedily in narrow streets of 'Paanch Number Colony', where they opened fire on the chasing police party. The fire was returned and both the outlaws were killed in the encounter, the SSP said.

He said Hubdar was also wanted by police in six cases of heinous crime, said the police officer, adding that a constable, Fazal Bhutto, sustained bullet wounds during the clash and was rushed to a hospital for treatment.

A bounty of Rs2m was notified for the arrest of Sultan and a proposal to raise it to Rs5m was sent to the home department.

Sultan Shah had previously surrendered before the police under the provincial government's policy but he returned to the world of crime after his release from jail.

After surrendering his arms some 10 years ago, he ventured into politics and contested the 2013 election on PS-1 Sukkur.

He later joined the Pak Sarzameen Party (PSP) and remained active in politics by organising rallies. However, he rutned to the crime world a few years back.

Court takes notice of Sukkur municipality's 'poor performance'

Seeks details of budget, speanding

By Our Correspondent

SUKKUR: The Sindh High Court (SHC) Sukkur bench has asked for the three-year budget record of the Sukkur Municipal Corporation.

The court sought the record while hearing a petition regarding a lack of basic facilities in the Bachal Shah Miani area in Sukkur. The two-member constitutional bench, comprising Justice Zulfiqar Ali Sangi and Justice Abdul Hameed Bhurgri, heard the case filed by advocate Gul Mir Jatoi.

The court demanded the complete record of the funds received by the municipal corporation over the past three years, and the bench ordered that details regarding how much budget the corporation received in the last three years and where that was spent must be presented to the court at the next hearing.

Petitioner advocate Gul Mir Jatoi contended that despite the Bachal Shah Miani area was part of the municipal corporation, it lacked basic facilities.

The area contains five union councils, but there was no supply of clean water and the drainage system was completely dysfunctional.

The petitioner alleged that due to the failure of sanitation and drainage, ponds of sewage water had developed everywhere, leading to a swarm of mosquitoes.

The petitioner claimed that the streets and roads in the area were broken, and the millions of rupees allocated monthly for sanitation and cleanliness were being misappropriated through the corruption.

The petitioner pointed out that heaps of garbage were piled up in the area and many other parts of the city, and even sewage water had been stagnant for days on the main road leading to the high court.

Corporation's lawyer B. Chauhan informed the court that a Model Union Committee had been established in Bachal Shah and that better arrangements for cleanliness were being made.

Justice Zulfiqar Ali Sangi questioned the lawyer: "Is there no garbage in front of your house?"

The lawyer replied: "Yes, there is garbage in front of my house, but the municipal staff clears it."

The petitioner countered that despite the municipal corporation was receiving a large sum every month, the city's sanitation system had not improved.

The court asked the corporation's lawyer to present the detailed record of the budget received and spent during the past three years.

The court asked for the budget record of the last three years from the Sukkur Municipal Corporation and adjourned the hearing until Dec 2.

CM wants work on major roads accelerated

By Our Staff Reporter

KARACHI: Sindh Chief Minister Syed Murad Ali Shah has directed immediate release of Sindh's Rs2.59 billion share to speed up progress on road dualisation project between Tando Allahyar and Tando Adam (31.4 km), a Rs9.28 billion scheme.

He also issued instructions to concerned departments for timely completion of major road projects undertaken by the federal and provincial governments and assisted by foreign bodies.

Presiding over a high-level meeting on the province's development portfolio, the CM said road infrastructure forms the backbone of Sindh's economic development and must be completed within set deadlines.

"People of Sindh must see tangible progress on the ground. Our priority is to complete projects that directly serve the public and strengthen regional connectivity," he emphasised.

The meeting reviewed the Sindh Coastal Highway (36 km) — Rs3.7 billion project, with Rs2.6 billion federal and Rs1 billion provincial share. The CM termed it a "strategic lifeline" for coastal development and directed its completion by June 2027; Rohri–Guddu Barrage Road (105 km) — Rs17.79 billion project connecting upper Sindh with southern Punjab.

The meeting also discussed the 135km Mehran Highway (Nawabshah–Ranipur) —Rs41.03 billion corridor vital for intra-provincial trade. The CM instructed its completion by June 2027 and Sanghar–Rohri via Mudh Jamrao and Salehput (221km) — Rs35.08 billion project with Rs1.12 billion provincial share. The CM said the road would "open new opportunities for rural communities and boost agricultural trade".

ADB-assisted programme

The chief minister also reviewed the ADB-assisted Sindh Flood Emergency Reconstruction Project (EFAP) — a Rs48.4 billion initiative covering 724km of flood-damaged roads, approved by Ecnec in December 2022 and launched in January 2024.

So far, 538km have been completed, with 96 per cent of the provincial share —Rs4.25 billion — utilised. The revised PC-I, under consideration, expands the scope to 873km with an updated cost of Rs62.53 billion, reflecting additional works and tax adjustments.

"The ADB-funded reconstruction demonstrates Sindh's resolve to rebuild smarter and stronger roads after the floods," the CM said, directing the timely release of additional funds and completion by June 2026.

Reaffirming his government's commitment to transparency, accountability, and sustainable development, the CM said: "We are determined to modernise Sindh's infrastructure, promote regional connectivity, and deliver projects that enhance resilience and long-term growth."

Wapda CBA vows agitation against privatisation

By Our Correspondent

LARKANA: Central President of the All Pakistan WAPDA Hydro Electric Workers Union (CBA) and Chairman of the Trade Union Federation of Pakistan, Abdul Latif Nizamani, has warned the federal government of a strong countrywide protest if it proceeds with the privatisation of power distribution companies.

Speaking at a workers' convention and later to the media on Wednesday, Mr Nizamani accused the government of following IMF and World Bank dictates, and pursuing policies that threaten Pakistan's sovereignty. He said privatisation of national institutions was an "anti-worker and anti-people" policy. He said Wapda employees would resist any move to sell away public assets.

"We will not allow privatisation of power companies at any cost. If the government uses force, the next workers' sit-in in Islamabad would turn into a nationwide movement," he warned.

He said the freeze on recruitment in power companies for over eight years had left more than 60,000 posts vacant, worsening conditions for existing staff. Privatisation, he added, would further raise electricity tariffs, increase unemployment, and deprive workers of pensions.

in Islamabad just a week earlier, with Germany pledging 114 million in financial and technical support for 2025–2026.

He said the development package would focus on climate and energy, sustainable economic development, vocational training, and social protection.

He further said that after 1990, the EU became the second-largest economic power in the world, with a GDP of around $20 trillion in 2024, encompassing 27 countries forming a common market.

The German diplomat said that the world needed greater courage and determination to confront global crises.

Also, the guests enjoyed an exclusive display of German automobiles and lively performances by Lenny Massy and a DJ, infusing the celebrations with a vibrant, festive atmosphere.
